Wayne's Golden Hour Club honors deceased members

They may be gone, but they still remain in the hearts and memories of those who knew and worked with them.

The Wayne Golden Hour Club last week honored posthumously former members of their club.

A flowering Dogwood Tree was dedicated last week at the Senior Activity Center in tribute of six Golden Hour Club members who died within the past

Family members of Dorothy Anusavage, Mae Daily, Muriel Kuebler, Millie Midlin, Edward Morris and Sudie Smith, along with Golden Hour members, attended a special memorial service.

"We asked family members to share memories of their loved ones during the program," noted Nancy Wojewski-Noel, director of Wayne Senior Services.

The Golden Hour is a social club that meets once a week at the Senior Activity Center for pot-luck lunch and meetings. The club co-sponsors holiday parties at the Senior Activity Center and members are involved in city events such as the Fireworks Show, offering hot fudge sundaes at the Winterfest, sale of baked bread at Wheelfest, and also sales of delicious brownies during special events.

People helping People Wayne is seeking some volunteers

The city of Wayne is looking for a "few good men and women" for a very special program.

Under the auspices of the "People Helping People" program, the city is in need of volunteers who would donate approximately six hours of time to help renovate and make minor repairs to a pre-selected Wayne home.

City officials point out that the community program will provide an elderly or disabled resident with the opportunity to have their home painted and repaired for free by the volunteers.

Saturday, Sept. 9 has been set aside for the project. City officials say that if it rains on Sept. 9, the project will be moved to Sept. 16.

The city will provide material, equipment, t-shirts, paint hats and bottled water and pop to the volunteers, who also will be invited to enjoy a continental breakfast at 8 a.m. at the Senior Activity Center.

If this is a kind of program you wish to become involved in, city officials urge that you fill out a form with your name, address and telephone number and mail the information to: City of Wayne, Department of Community Development, City Hall, 3355 South Wayne Road.

For more information, call 7334-722-2000, extension 215.

Rivers to host coffee hour

Congresswoman Lynn Rivers has scheduled a coffee hour for Friday, July 7 to discuss current legislation and answer questions and the concerns of citizens in the 13th congressional district.

The district includes the cities of Wayne and Inkster.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the Floyd B. Simmons Multi-purpose Building. The building is located at 29150 Carlisle Ave.

For further information, contact April Lewis in Rivers' District Office in Ypsilanti. Lewis's telephone number is 734-485-3741.

Drink & Drive? Police say you definitely will lose

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Law enforcement officials say that more than 65 percent of the fatal accidents in the United States are caused by drunk drivers.

And, with the extended 4th of July holidays approaching, they fear that the massacre on the highways may increase the numbers.

However, police officials don't want you or a loved one to become a stat.

This year, the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning has launched a state-wide campaign to inform drivers that "if you drink and drive, you lose."

"We are participating in that campaign," stressed Lt. Keith Thomas, of the Wayne Police Department. "We will have additional units out there to enforce drunk-driving laws."

Lt. Thomas pointed out that the You Drink & Drive. You Lose Impaired Driving Prevention Campaign is a national enforcement campaign supported by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, International Association of Chiefs of Police, National Association of Governors' Highway Safety Representatives, National Sheriff's Association, National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives and Operation CARE.

During this particular operation, law enforcement officers will be conducting aggressive traffic enforcement blitzes targeting specific traffic violations in a coordinated, cooperative multi-agency approach.

"This is a campaign targeted at arresting impaired drivers," Lt. Thomas added. "Not only will these enforcement efforts keep our streets and highways safer, but will heighten the perception of risk of getting caught because an increased number of officers are deployed in the operation."

Deceptive advertising cited

Commissioner Beard accesses challenges

Although the political campaign for county offices is still in its embryolic stages, the Wayne County Commissioner's race for the 12th district seat, has given birth to controversy. Longtime Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard accused challenger, Robert Thomas, mayor of Westland who is seeking the 12th district seat, of deceptive advertising. In a press release sent to the local media on June 26, Beard announced that she has filed a complaint with the state and county election officials, asking for an investigation into deceptive advertising by the Westland mayor. Beard stresses that postal cards apparently sent by Thomas' campaign people indicate that the layout of the card reads: "Cast your vote for Robert J. Thomas, Wayne County Commissioner, District 12, Serving Garden City, Inks- ter and Westland."

In a letter dated June 22, 2000, to John O'Hair, Wayne County Prosecutor, Beard states in her complaint that Thomas's political literature is deceptive and in violation of Michigan Election Law because it is false and misleading.

"This layout and wording is clearly written to give the impression that Robert J. Thomas is the incumbent of District 12 and is presently serving the people of Garden City, Inkster and Westland."

"This impression is patently untrue, inasmuch as I am the incumbent and have served in this capacity for the past 22 years."

Beard requested that the Wayne County Prosecutor's Of- fice take immediate action against the alleged deceptive advertising.

"I am requesting that your office make an immediate investigation of this violation and hold each and every person involved in creating, print- ing and distributing this deceptive campaign material strictly accountable under the law, excepting of course the postal service employees."

Mayor Thomas's office was contacted by a Michigan Com- munity Newspapers staff writer by telephone on Tuesday for a comment, however, a city em- ployee in the mayor's office said that Mayor Thomas was not in the office, but that he was expected later in the after- noon.

Beard, the longest serving commissioner on the commission, was elected to her 11th successive term in 1998 and is in her fourth term as Commis- sion Vice Chair.

During her tenure, she has earned the Michigan Associa- tion of Counties (MAC) "Com- missioner of the Year" award and was recently named the recipient of the prestigious El- eanor Roosevelt Award, the highest honor bestowed upon women by the Michigan Demo- cratic Women's Caucus.

"The people of Garden City, Inkster and Westland deserve a race that is honest and that adheres to state election laws," Beard said. "Deceptive advertising does not serve the public well. I've always be- lieved that honesty is the best policy in politics and in gov- ernment, as well as in life."

Inkster also will take part in blitzes

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Inkster police will have the use of a 2001 police-equipped Chevy Camaro during the up- coming 'You Drink and Drive, You Lose Impaired Driving Prevention Campaign.'

The campaign will kick off locally, in the area, and nation- ally on July 1 and continue through the 4th of July ex- tended holidays.

"We would like to thank Ken Kennedy of Showes and Shoots of Troy for the use of this vehicle during the cam- paign," said Detective An- thony Abdallah, of the Inkster Police Department. "It de- finitely will assist us during the campaign."

Sgt. Tom Diaz, in charge of the program, explained the law enforcement officers will be conducting an aggressive traffic enforcement blitz city- wide and that the blitz also will be coordinated with other law enforcement agencies.

Tom Diaz (above, at left) and Detective Anthony Abdallah stand along side a donated 2001 police equipped Chevy Camaro which will be used to crack down on impaired and drunk drivers during the You Drink and Drive, You Lose Impaired Driving Prevention Campaign. The campaign begins July 1, just in time for the 4th of July holidays.

"We have to get impaired and drunk drivers off of our roads and highways before they kill," Diaz stressed. "There is 0-tolerance for those who drink and drive here in the city of Inkster."

Diaz said that the campaign is targeted at arresting im- paired drivers. Not only will these enforcement efforts keep our streets safer, it will heighten the risk of getting caught as they're will be off- cers specifically assigned to this campaign which will run from July 1 through the 4th."

Diaz urged local residents to obey the laws, that if you drink, don't drive.

Police also warn that the lo- cal courts will come down hard on anyone who is con- victed of impaired driving dur- ing the blitzes.

Court announces revised schedule

By TOM MOORADIAN

Not only will the 22nd Dis- trict Court that serves the city of Inkster be closed on the 4th of July in observance of the holidays, court officials say that they have been asked to close three other days to help in the repair and renovation of the court.

Earlier this year the 22nd District Court was hit by a fire that caused extensive damage to the kitchen and office areas. Gerry K. Hearn, court administrator, announced the court also will be closed on June 29 and June 30, along with July 3, due to the fire re- construction.

"We will also be closed on the 4th, on Independence Day and will reopen on Wednes- day, July 5 at 8:30 a.m. We are sorry for any inconvenience this may cause," Hearn stated.

Small businesses doing their part to fight gas gougers

Free Gas, up to a $40 tank, is what you could get if you enter our contest this week. Michigan Community Newspapers and participating businesses are attempting to do their part in helping beleaguered consumers deal with sticker shock at the gasoline pumps. We will give away a tankful of gas to 26 residents in the Western Wayne area. All you have to do to win is fill in a few of the entry blanks on pages 4 and 5 of this newspaper, and deposit them in entry boxes at participating businesses.

Unlike OPEC, the federal and state governments, and oil companies, we feel the price of gasoline at Michigan pumps is outrageous. Like most small businesses in the area there isn't a whole lot we can do about it. However, after reading about a local radio station that sold gasoline for 95 cents for a day and experienced a two-mile back-up of drivers trying to take advantage of the offer, we began to realize consumers were interested in any kind of break they could get.

That in mind, we decided to take the FREE GAS concept to area businesses and see whether we could get local merchants to participate. Twenty-six business owners said "yes" thus the contest was born.

Quite frankly, however, I wish the price of gas wasn't even a conversation piece. It saddens me that working class men and women are the victims in this game of squeeze as many dollars as we possibly can from consumers.

No one, not the oil producers, the government or the oil companies has provided a reasonable explanation as to why gas prices in Michigan and selected midwest states are so high. The excuses run the gamut from the higher price per barrel OPEC charges, to new taxes, to laws that demand a different blend for every region of the country to bursting pipelines that have created a shortage.

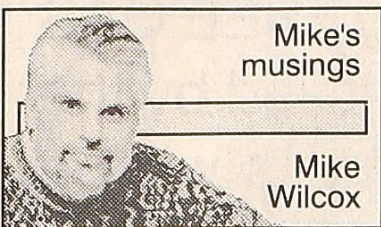

Our state government could follow the lead of governments in Illinois and Wisconsin that have reduced taxes on gasoline for the time being, to help consumers and businesses with the extra burden. But, for whatever reason, Governor Engler has resisted calling back legislators from summer recess, to pass the price cut. I think that's irresponsible on the Governor's part and as far as I'm concerned, lazy legislators ought to be itching to drive to Lansing for a day so that they can pass legislation that will help their constituents.

Federally, a myriad of agencies have begun to investigate the disparity in prices. Florida, which usually mirrors Michigan in gasoline prices, continues to hover around $1.50. If we're to blame OPEC, wouldn't Florida's prices be higher? Although taxes are stiff on gasoline, taxes, even the newer ones have been with us for some time. And pipelines, yeah a couple broke, but gas prices were going higher before the breaks and haven't decreased much since the pipelines were fixed.

Even greater than consumers, service station owners are getting pinched by the higher prices. When gas was $1.50 a gallon, dealers were making 4 to 6 cents. Now with gas over $2.00, dealers are having a hard time eking out 3 cents. Couple that with the fact that fewer gallons are being purchased and you can see why service station owners are calling this the worst crisis they've faced since the early 1980's.

I've come to the conclusion there is just no good reason Midwest consumers must pay $2.00 plus per gallon. I think with all the investigations and accusations taking place, we will see gas back down to the $1.60's and $1.70's by August. But until then why not have a tank of gas on us. All you have to do is enter at area businesses. It's that simple.

State splurges on bureaucracies

Damn the evidence. The state of Michigan keeps throwing money at schools, ostensibly to better public schools.

The latest splurges were an extra $800 per pupil to Wayne-Westland schools and a new $45 million for a statewide "parents as teachers" program to teach people how to better raise families.

According to the Detroit News, the $45 million will be granted to school districts that have drafted "worthy proposals for reaching new parents, helping them learn skills that will aid in their children's growth, and following up with personal visits to the home. Most of the money will be used to train and pay staff."

The worthy programs will focus on: teaching parents about early brain development research and the value of reading and visiting libraries; monitoring families' homes; and intertwining families' lives with social agencies that provide child care, preschool classes, job training, mental health care and housing.

This proposal flies in the face of evidence gathered by the New York Times. The nation's "Paper of Record" analyzed how New York's 32 community school districts spent money in the last four years.

The analysis contradicts two common assumptions about educational disparities. It found that the districts with the highest-performing students received the least amount of money per pupil, the opposite of the reasoning behind pouring more money into Wayne-Westland.

The schools with the highest-performing students also have the most crowded classrooms, the opposite of the state legislator's goal to lower class sizes.

Ivan Helfman

The study also showed that the way districts spend the money matters too. Money spent on middlemen - aides, secretaries, para-professionals, assistant administrators, and other "patronage positions" - does less to improve student achievement than money spent on books, teacher training and other instructional categories. Yet not one penny of the $45 million program will go towards books or teacher training. It all goes to patronage position bureaucrats, who are licking their chops at the prospect.

"We're excited about this program," Lena Montgomery, manager of early childhood programs for the Wayne Regional Educational Service Agency (RESA), told the News. "We have a lot of research about how the first few years of life are critical in brain development. We shouldn't be hiding that kind of information from parents."

I'm sure RESA bureaucrats have a lot of brain information to share.

Off course, students served by RESA and other swelling bureaucracies fall far short of home-schooled students, who are being accepted at premium universities at twice the rate of other students, and who significantly outperformed public and private school students in every subject of the Iowa Test of Basic Skills (according to a 1998 stud of about 20,000 home-schooled students by Lawrence Rudner).

I bring up home-schooled students because, being totally cutoff from the public school bureaucracy and the alphabet soup social agencies soaring like buzzards above them, constitute strong evidence that the teachers have more to learn from parents than the other way around.

But rather than learn from home-schooling parents, two recent events show that the bureaucrats and their government enablers are trying to destroy home-schooling parents.

First, after home-schooled kids scored bigtime as finalists and winners at both the National Spelling Bee and National Geographic Bee, bureaucrats and public school apologists claimed that homeschoolers have an unfair advantage because they have time to work on their skills. The National Spelling Bee responded by, in effect, banning homeschoolers from future bees by requiring contestants to have "a full school schedule and varied academic course load."

What's next - limiting contestants to students whose families were subjected to the parents as teachers program?

Second, the fight against thriving homeschoolers intensified further against a Spelling Bee runners up from Alameda, Cal. Homeschoolers in her district have been charged with truancy and their parents may be prosecuted for contributing to the delinquency of a minor after complaints by the local public school district struck government gold.

If you can't beat'em, ban 'em. If you still can't beat them, jail them.

Both sides in fire dispute smoking

Both sides in the Romulus Fire Department dispute appeared to be really smoking this past week...and little if anything appears to have been gained by the actions in favor of local citizens.

Talking to both sides privately ... it appears neither side has much respect for each other's views at this time.

On the Oakley administration's side, they can point to the pending information and advice they hope to gain from their new consultant - Farmington Hills Fire Chief Richard Marinucci.

Unfortunately some in the fire department are not sure if that information will be worth the $5,000 the city is paying for it.

This writer has offered to sit down with Mayor William Oakley and Fire Chief David Allison so that the public can learn what has happened behind closed doors since last October.

Post Scripts

Al Post

Have city leaders worked hard as they say to find a workable and financially sound program for the ever growing city.

Or have they -- as firefighter critics cry -- done almost nothing until the Oakley administration heard the firefighters were going to appear on Cable TV and in the Michigan Community Newspapers.

Let us hope that the time of finger pointing is over!

What local persons -- other than Oakley and Chief Allison -- will be among the Firefighter Committee that works to create a safer Romulus?

What if any role is the local

Fire and Police Commission going to have in this study?

Let's step up the visible action as well as the behind the scenes study, so that all who wish to know what is going on in Romulus, do know.

Rather than issue any scare notices on either side...let's start working together before the issue tears apart any more of the fabric of the city.

Late word Tuesday is that there will be no Fire Department water sports at the July 4th festivities -- a fun activity that has occurred for about a decade in Romulus.

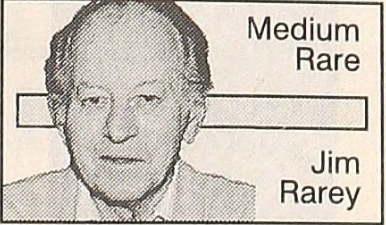

Don't let this rancor grow in coming months where it could also impact this year's Good Fellows program.

Much is at stake -- but lets not tie anyone on to it for political reasons.

Free pass for judges mocks Constitution

One of the things that sets the United States apart from the rest of most of the countries in the world is the God-given rights of its citizens protected by the Constitution. One of the most basic rights, along with freedom of religion, freedom of speech and due process, is the right to a trial by an impartial jury in criminal cases, guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment.

Untold thousands of Americans have died in the nation's wars to protect these rights. Every elected public official from the president on down to city council members and local judges takes an oath to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Medium Rare

In last Saturday's Detroit Free Press (the least read of the week's editions) buried on page 14B along with obituaries and death notices, is a short article on punishments recommended by the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission for two local judges found to have engaged in "judicial misconduct."

The Commission found that Wayne County Circuit Judge Cynthia Hathaway; "played hooky from work, mismanaged her docket, conducted an improper arraignment of a drug suspect at a Detroit police precinct, and threatened to jail a rape suspect unless he gave up his constitutional right to be tried by a jury."

For these serious offenses, the commission recommended the State Supreme Court impose a 15-day suspension on Judge Hathaway. School students can get that kind of "punishment" just for playing hooky.

The U.S. Criminal Code makes it a felony for any government official to deprive or attempt to deprive anyone person of his civil rights "under the color of law."

At a minimum, Judge Hathaway should be immediately removed from the bench and be barred from serving in any government position of trust in the future. Additionally, the U.S. Attorney for the Detroit district should open an investigation into the matter with the view of prosecuting Judge Hathaway if the evidence warrants it.

To do any less would make a mockery of the lives that have been sacrificed to protect our constitutional rights.

Vouchers will change public schools

To the editor:
The future of public and private education in Michigan will soon be at a crossroads. Will we be able to have real choices for our children's education? Or will our public and private schools be blended into an academic and moral hodgepodge that will blur the critical distinctions between both institutions?
The Michigan Constitution guarantees a free public education for all Michigan children. However, the constitution prohibits using public taxpayer funds, either director or indirectly, to support private schools.
Currently, there is an initiative underway to eliminate Michigan's constitutional ban on using public tax money to fund private and religious schools. The current effort will result in a referendum on the November ballot asking Michigan voters to remove this constitutional prohibition.

Using public tax dollars to finance a school voucher program will redefine both public and private education funding. Many hard working union construction workers and other families have children in public schools. The state of Michigan guarantees these taxpayers a proper public education for their children funded by tax revenue.
Many hard working union construction workers and other families send their children to private or religious schools. These parents make many financial sacrifices to ensure that their children receive an education according to the parent's discretion. These schools are chosen because of the teachings and codes of conduct they impart on their students.
Additionally, many families do not have children in school. These people pay taxes to the state and to local school districts to support public education. They may contribute financial aid to support private schools through their church or by direct voluntary contributions.

In the end, what do school vouchers mean to us?
The negative effects of Vouchers on Public Schools
According to research, if a substantial number of students in school districts use vouchers, the economic impact on public education will be negative. If public schools serve smaller and smaller proportions of school-age children, they will lose millions of dollars in state funding and experience dwindling public support for local funding. The resources for public schools will diminish as more taxpayer money is diverted to private and religious schools. If public schools lose a majority of students and, consequently, a majority of state funding, the districts will be faced with the same situation they had prior to 1994 and "Proposal D", which resulted in the local district mileage funding most of the annual budget. The solutions will include a host of unappealing options: closing schools and reducing choices, raising operating mileage, paying off bonds levied for buildings that are not longer used, increasing the teacher to student ratio, decreasing staff development, cutting programs such as sports, arts and science and further threatening new technology and classroom equipment.

The contrast between how private and religious schools operate compared to public schools in an important distinction. Private schools are free to operate as they wish and are subject to little or no public oversight. Public schools are democratically controlled and must follow publicly determined rules regarding admissions, special-education students, teacher qualifications, curriculum, testing, and information disclosure.

A recent U.S. Department of Education report states that private and religious schools are unlikely to participate in a voucher program that would require them to meet accountability standards in key policy areas such as admissions, student testing, curriculum and religious training.

The reports summarizes that a regulated voucher system would erode the autonomy and independence of private and religious schools. The report also indicates that an unregulated vouchers system may preserve private and religious autonomy, but will not allow taxpayers to determine how their tax dollars are spent.

A recent poll shows that the public would expect private and religious schools, that received public dollars to be regulated and held accountable for the use of these dollars, in effect, turning them into public schools.

If vouchers are approved, sweeping changes will begin to occur in private and religious schools. Right now, these schools have almost complete independence with regard to who they teach, what they teach, how they teach, how they measure student achievement, how they handle their finances and what information they disclose to parents and the public. Are they willing to provide the accountability necessary for public oversight?

Sincerely,
Thomas Boensch

Students make school proud

To the Editor:
We came to Franklin Middle School in the Wayne-Westland Community School District on Tuesday, May 30, wondering how we would make it through the day much less the remainder of the week. The person that supplied Franklin with its energy, its soul and its compassion, our secretary, Debbie Bachus, had tragically died in a Memorial Day weekend accident.

We sat numb and disbelieving at a 7:30 a.m. staff meeting. The school district and our school emergency crisis team had already put a plan in motion, supplying us with a host of psychologists, social workers and counselors for both students and staff alike. The plan flexed to meet our needs as the long week passed and events, news, and plans for Debbie's funeral were made.

Once we were informed that the funeral would be Friday afternoon, an enormous question had to be answered. We all wanted to go to the funeral, but how would we continue to conduct Friday afternoon classes?

The answer came and was in place on Thursday. From throughout the district, volunteers offered their services to come to Franklin for the afternoon.

Administration and Employee Services worked with our co-acting principal, Marcia Brown to facilitate this monumental task. Dr. Greg Baracy, our District Superintendent, on one of his busiest days of the year, found time to supervise our lunchroom and was seen kindly lending a dime to a student who had lost his milk money. Also, Assistant Superintendent Char Sherman took charge of the students and quests in our building and even stayed to make sure the students got on the buses safely. Other assistant superintendents, teachers from other buildings, several special education staff, and secretaries came to help. Even retired administrators Don and Bev Brooks left their retirement nest to come and give support so that students and staff could say good-bye to Debbie Bachus and begin to heal.

In a day when MEAP scores continue to get top billing, it is gratifying to recognize that there are other wonderful things of value that are being learned. It made us proud at Franklin Middle School to see over 100 students sitting respectfully at the funeral and looking so grown up. It was wonderful to see how administration, staff, students, and parents could come together during our moment of crisis - helping each other with great care and concern. One thing Debbie Bachus taught us is that we are a family at Franklin Middle School and these past few days we have also been reminded that we are part of an even larger family - the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

Thank you to all who helped us through this most difficult of times. Your caring and compassion and support has been a great source of strength to us all. Our school district community has been diminished by Debbie's passing, but strengthened by your thoughtfulness.

A Beautiful Smile
Q: What are some of the options available to give me a beautiful smile?

A: At Newburgh Heights Dental, we have many options available to you. For example, you may have chipped or badly worn front teeth. Well, one of the best ways to fix that is by placing veneers on the teeth. Veneers are thin porcelain facings, similar to a false fingernail, which are bonded to the front of the teeth and give you an instant beautiful smile.

Others may have crowded or crooked teeth, but think that they are too old for braces. Nothing could be further from the truth. The fact is that more and more adults today are getting braces to correct problems that for one reason or another were never corrected when they were young. We have an orthodontist who can work with almost any mouth.

Other options available are bleaching (teeth whitening), bondings, bridges, crowns, and implants. At Newburgh Heights, we have what it takes to make your smile beautiful. So why not take that step and do something you have been thinking about for a long time. Call today for an exam and a personal consultation.

MEN'S BASEBALL

IAN WINTER

Undeniably one of the best backstops, if not the best, the area produced during the year 2000 campaign was Plymouth-Salem's Ian Winter, whom Lakes Division coaches also drafted as their No. 1 catcher. Winter appeared in 31 games and recorded 151 putouts, while getting credit for 14 assists. At the plate, Ian belted four homers, one triple, eight doubles and his .425 batting average was second only to Adam Kolb's in Salem's lineup.

Salem's Rumberger 'Coach of the Year'

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

You shoot for the stars, the philosophers will tell you, and even if you fall short, you still have gained in the experience.

The experience, it seems, of playing against some of the finest high school ball clubs in Ohio early in the season may have figured prominently in Plymouth-Salem's success on the ball diamonds this year, according to Salem coach Dale Rumberger.

"We lost all three games in Cincy," recalls Rumberger, who brought the curtains on his sixth season as head coach at Salem. "But, on the bus ride back home, the staff and I had an opportunity to talk with the kids. We stressed the positives despite the losses. We had played hard against some of the best teams and held our own, so we could hold our heads high."

"When we got back here on the diamonds, these kids lifted the caliber of their game to another dimension. Those losses in Ohio, turned this team around."

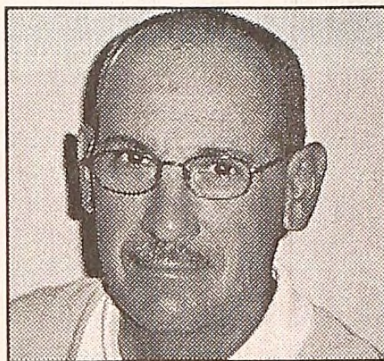

A 5-9 ball club at one stage in the season, Salem turned around and posted a 20-14 won-lost record. The Rocks won the Western Lakes Division and WLAA Conference championships before cleaning up in the districts.

Salem was eliminated in the state regional semifinals by Royal Oak Kimball, 2-1.

At one stretch of the season, the Rocks had won nine straight ball games.

Rumberger, 48, says that the work ethics of his players definitely played a major role in the success of the team.

"These kids knew what they

Dale Rumberger
'Coach of the Year'

wanted to do, and they went about achieving their goal. I am proud of this ball club, as is the school."

Rumberger is a former Plymouth High star whose two sons are also baseball standouts: Aaron, Rumberger's oldest, graduated from Detroit Catholic Central and is presently on his father's coaching staff, and Ryan, a former All-Area catcher who is now in his senior year in college at the University of Detroit, prepped at Salem and was the starting backstop for the Rocks for three years.

Rumberger also has drafted Brandon Los, who graduated and played for Salem in the early 1990's, as an assistant coach.

Although the high school season may be over, the Salem coach hasn't mothballed his uniform. He will be busy during the summer months with sandlot teams, obviously looking to put together a lineup that will carry the Rocks all the way in 2001.

MCN's Sports Staff its honored to name Dale Rumberger as its first Coach of the Year in baseball for the 21st Century, and wish him and the Rocks "good luck" next season.

And all of the seasons beyond.

GABE KEELAN

In only his inaugural year as a Belleville ball player, Gabe Keelan quickly established himself as a power hitter. He managed to finish the campaign with a .397 batting record, which also provided him with All-Mega Conference recognition. A senior outfielder, Keelan has the potential to move to the next level of competition, according to his coach. "Gabe has the desire, the talent and the ability to become an excellent ball player if he chooses to,"

JON JOHNSON

When up against the wall in their battle for the conference title, Plymouth-Canton coach Scott Dickie usually turned to senior and veteran pitcher Jon Johnson. Johnson produced for the Chiefs throughout the campaign and kept the team in the thick of the Western Lakes Conference title race. At the end, Canton shared the Western Lakes divisional championship with Farmington Hills Harrison. Johnson's pitching acuity also earned him a starting berth on the All-Conference Team.

JASON LUKASIK

Plymouth-Salem outfielder-pitcher Jason Lukasik is a multi-talented senior who also was named to the All-Area Football Team as a line-backer last season. Jason led the Rocks to the Western Lakes Conference and the district titles before he brought the curtains down on a sterling prep athletic career. At the plate, Jason compiled a .425 batting average. He also hammered nine home runs, two triples and 10 doubles in leading the Rocks to a 20-14 season.

DEREK DUFRANE

One of the best pitching prospects in this area is only a sophomore. He's Belleville's Derek Dufrane, who managed to win five of his seven decisions this season as a member of coach Pat Digman's Tigers. During the season, the sophomore hurler posted an incredible 1.61 earn run average (ERA). That mark also stands as one of the area's best. "Derek definitely made us a contender in the tough Mega Conference," says Digman.

STEVE GORDON

Another major player in Plymouth-Salem's success story this season is Steve Gordon, who was coach Dale Rumberger's go-to pitcher when they faced the top of the Western Lakes Conference standings. Drafted by Lakes Division coaches as one of two all-division pitchers, Gordon had a 2.29 ERA, while winning five of his nine starts. In 55 innings of work, Steve struck out 51 while issuing 19 bases on balls.

JIM WISNIEWSKI

The only sophomore to break into the All-Area line-up, Plymouth-Canton's Jim Wisniewski clubbed five homers for the Chiefs and finished with a phenomenal .492 batting record. Playing a pivotal role in Canton's bid for the Western Lakes Conference title, Wisniewski also represents the Western Division co-champs (Canton and Farmington Harrison finished with identical 7-3 records) on the all-Lakes Division team.

DENNIS LANDSKROENER

Although he played hurt most of the second half of the season, Dennis Landskroener's bat and arm were instrumental in keeping Romulus in the hunt for the Mega Conference, Gold Division title. Despite the injury, Dennis finished his senior year with an incredible .501 batting average, the highest of any All-Area candidate this year. Utilized as a shortstop when not on the mound - he won two of his five games, Landskroener drilled two homers for the season.

RYAN BLOCK

Batting a hefty .420 on the season, Ryan Block set a RBI record for the Eagles at Romulus High when he knocked in 34 runs for coach Keith Brothers' Eagles. He went 36 for 85 at the plate and his bat will definitely play a major role in Romulus's bid for a Mega Conference baseball title next season. "Ryan is a natural leader on and off the field," says Brothers. "He played varsity ball as an sophomore. We look forward to him returning to our lineup next year when he will be a senior."

OLIVER WOLCOTT

Plymouth-Canton's success story could not have been completed without the services of infielder Oliver Wolcott. A junior who broke into Canton's varsity lineup as a freshman, Wolcott is one of two Canton players who were also named to the Western Lakes Conference Team. A natural hitter, Wolcott cashed in on 35 of his 89 times at-bat for hits, with a score of those going for extra bases.

MATT MACKIEWICZ

Used as a pitcher-third baseman, Matt Mackiewicz may develop into Wayne Memorial's next super star. "He has the potential to do it all," said coach Tom Wakefield. "Matt is an excellent pitcher and infielder. He can also hit. He isn't intimidated by anything or anyone." Mackiewicz also earned all-conference recognition and Wakefield believes his young ball player's competitive spirit to play baseball will make him one of the best to ever play at Wayne.

ADAM KOLB

Plymouth-Salem first baseman Adam Kolb wrapped up his senior year with the hitting title. Kolb batted an incredible .457 for the year after getting aboard 43 of his 98 at-bats. Among those 43 hits are two homers, one triple and eight doubles. Named to the All-Lakes Division Team after playing a crucial role in the Rocks' successful drive for the Lakes, conference, district titles, Kolb should have little problem finding his way into the lineup of one the blue chip colleges next year.

CHRIS DEATON

When Romulus needed a catcher to fill the void created by an ineligibility, coach Keith Brothers turned to his most versatile player - Chris Deaton for help. "Chris didn't hesitate. He stepped up and asked for the position, and did a commendable job. That's the kind of player and person he is." Deaton batted .333 on the season, and he also managed to steal 15 times. Mega Conference coaches also liked what they saw in Deaton and named the junior to the all-conference team.

ADAM SEE

As Wayne Memorial's leadoff hitter, junior infielder Adam See got the job done in a season that began in controversy and ended in hope for the future. See batted .416 in his second year on varsity and that average and his ability also earned him a berth on the All-Mega Conference, White Division Team. "Adam is a tough player who focuses upon getting the job done," says Wayne coach Tom Wakefield.

AARON BROHL

A three-year veteran of varsity competition, Aaron Brohl was on base more than 50 percent of the time, and with 65 career base steals, the senior outfielder now owns the school record in that category. Aaron also scored 34 runs and was walked by opposing pitchers 24 times. Named All-Mega Conference as a 10th and 12th grader, Brohl captained the Eagles this year. "Aaron is a solid all-around athlete, and one of the most competitive I have coached," said Keith Brothers.

JOSH DAY

Most Improved Player on the John Glenn varsity this season was Josh Day, a 6-2, 190-pound outfielder who was the second Westland player named to the all-Western Lakes, Lakes Division Team this season. Day had 78 times at-bat and managed to get 25 hits, including a pair of home runs, five doubles and a triple. He also batted in 23 runs. "This was his second year on varsity and we saw a great improvement in his skills. I think we're all eager to see what Day will do as a senior."

CHAD SANSOM

In a season that most John Glenn fans would like to forget, there were some bright spots. One of those was the overall performance of senior Chad Sansom whose hard work paid off for the team in general and for him specifically - he was named to the all-conference team. Chad belted 34 hits in 99 appearances at the plate. In those 34 hits, Chad managed to double six times, homered once and he drove in 16 runs. "We may not have had a great year, but Chad did," says Glenn coach Todd Duffield. "A few more players on the team with Chad's dedication, and we would have been contenders." Sansom was only one of two Rockets recognized by the coaches in the Western Lakes as an All-Lakes Division player.

STEVE STILES

Not only is Steve Stiles one of the best hitters in the Western Lakes Conference, but the Plymouth-Salem senior also is among the conference's best fielders. In 28-game appearances, Stiles batted .400. He also scored 26 times, while recording 34 runs batted in. Like teammate Jason Lukasik, Stiles was unanimously picked by coaches for the all-conference team. His credentials include a near perfect fielding percentage of .966.

Romulus fireworks on, but parade cancelled

The annual July 3rd Romulus Parade has been cancelled, but the festive fireworks display still will take place about 10 p.m. on July 4.

Debbie Dick, Romulus recreation director, said the limited response to the parade by last Tuesday forced the cancellation of the annual march.

Dick also reported that the popular annual waterball tournament slated for the holiday also is being cancelled, since the needed number of firefighter teams could not be fielded.

However the annual men's softball tournament will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. July 4 at Elmer Johnson Park.

Other events at the park that day will include: children's games beginning at 11 a.m., homerun derby at 1:30 p.m. and music and karaoke music by Willie Hester begins at 5 p.m.

The fireworks spectacular is slated for 10 p.m. July 4th. If rain delays the display, it will be held the following day.

Those interested in getting a good view of the fireworks should arrive early, Mayor William Oakley announced at the City Council meeting on Monday night.

It also was announced that Monday's normal meeting time for the first City Council session of the month is postponed until Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers.

Charter school principal quizzed by local parents

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Andrew Cook — newly appointed principal at the Metro Charter Academy — revealed Thursday night that he was attracted to his new post by its moral focus.

Cook — father of four Eagle Boy Scouts — will spend the next month selecting his opening day teaching staff.

He will be using a room in the Oakley and Robinson law offices in downtown Romulus to interview and hire his K-5th grade teachers.

Cook said builders of the National Heritage Academy promise the school building will be completed by Aug. 10 — weeks before the classes are to begin.

Cook and Phil Perkins, marketing manager for National Heritage Academies, fielded a string of questions from parents of potential students at a monthly meeting at the Crown Plaza Hotel on Merriman Road in Romulus.

Questions ranged from what will be the experience level of academy teachers and what classes and other options will be listed on the school curriculum.

It was revealed that a picnic will be held in August so that students and parents will be able to visit the school, talk to the teachers and make friends with other school parents.

Cook reminded those in attendance that his family is now in transition as he prepares to move to the Wayne County area from Mesick, MI.

"Call if you have any questions for me — leave a message if I'm not in the office and I'll get back to you. Call 734-941-6082 and be patient—it may take a day or more to get back to you," Cook said.

Kindergarten classes are already placing names on waiting lists for the Year 2000 classes, he said, and other classes (1-5) are filling up fast, Perkins said.

Parents were reminded:

1—an academy dress code is planned including dark bottoms and white tops and that street shoes will be required. Athletic shoes will be used only in gym activities.

2—lunch items will be supplied by a vendor (yet to be named) and in-school microwaves will be available.

3—parents can keep track of their child's grades and project completion levels via a home computer.

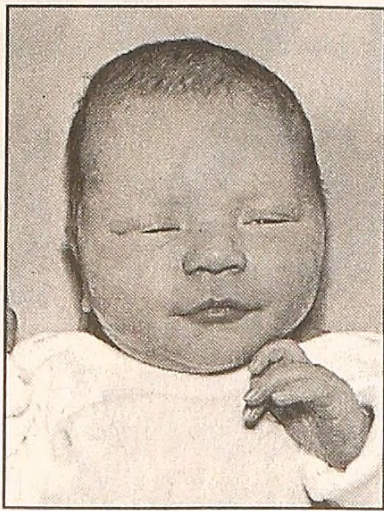

4—parents are responsible for student's transportation to and from school...and carpooling is accepted.

Teachers hired next month will be required to attend "academy bootcamp" activities the first week of August in Grand Rapids.

Later they will take part in an orientation at the Ecorse Road school prior to the school year beginning.

The students enrolling here will join more than 8,000 other N.H.A. students throughout Michigan this year.

Salvation Army beginning transition

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Majors Terry and Sharon Nelson – recently assigned to Sioux Falls, South Dakota -- have arrived at the Romulus Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Center.

The Nelsons will serve as co-administrators for the next 4-5 months with Majors Brian and Kay Merritt, who in turn will retire this November.

Upon arriving in Romulus last week, Nelson admitted “loving the mission of the Salvation Army and its ARC programs.”

He has been involved with the Army since 1964 – initially serving in Chicago, Ill. – and his wife officially joined the Army in 1968.

But Sharon Nelson admits that in reality she is the third generation of her family to work with the Salvation Army and two of their children are now making it a fourth generation.

Nelson began his first stint with an ARC program three and a half years ago.

When he first started at the rehabilitation center in Sioux Falls, Nelson said many of the men they were treating were older individuals.

But the age of the benefactors – the title given to those being treated at the ARC's – has dipped greatly and many of the younger men – as young as 18 – are suffering from substance abuse problems rather than just alcoholism.

“I like ministering to the men as well as handling the business issues of running such a facility,” Nelson related.

Merritt told the Romulus S.A. Advisory Council last Thursday that he plans to turn over the “day to day” responsibilities of the men's treatment over to Nelson. Later he also will turn over the responsibilities of the Army's Thrift Stores to the Nelsons.

Sales of items at various

Army thrift stores are the main source of revenue for the ARC operations.

Two of the key local Army thrift stores that aid the local ARC program are located on Michigan Avenue in Wayne and Middlebelt (and Van Born) in Romulus.

A new store may open this fall at Goddard and Allen Road in Southgate, Merritt explained. Another facility is slated in Ypsilanti.

Romulus businessman Larry Williams is the chairman of the Romulus ARC Advisory Council.

WALTONWOOD OF CANTON

Assisted living

All too often it has seemed that the only choice for someone who is unable to live independently is a nursing home. WALTONWOOD OF CANTON, located at 2000 North Canton Center Road, offers a beautiful alternative to nursing care: assisted living. What exactly is assisted living? Officially, it's defined as a special combination of housing and personalized care, designed to respond to the individual needs of those who need help with the activities of daily living. But the best part of it is that assisted living costs less AND the assistance isn't handled in an "institutionalized" way. An atmosphere of warmth and caring...a setting that is rich in thoughtful residential design. This is all part of WALTONWOOD, a place our residents can truly call home. Assisted living residents don't need round the clock skilled nursing care. What they do need is a little help with the activities of daily living, including assistance with bathing, dressing, personal hygiene and grooming, meals and medication monitoring...and the encouragement to be active. The goal at WALTONWOOD is to give each of our residents a choice of care and a lifestyle that promotes dignity, independence, individuality and of course the opportunity to maintain an active and social lifestyle. And knowing that someone is right there, 24 hours a day provides unsurpassed peace of mind to both our residents and their families. So call WALTONWOOD OF CANTON at (734) 844-3060 and ask for Denise Aleardi or Josie Rakowski for more information or a personalized tour. They now offer adult and respite care.

The writers of this 2000 Summer Business Review and Reference Guide are pleased to be able to recommend WALTONWOOD OF CANTON to all of our readers.
